THE HEART OF INTEGRITY HOUSE

At Integrity House our primary focus and goal is the spiritual development of the resident. Our purpose is to habitually disciple our residents to seek God first and to trust in and live according to the spiritual principles found in His Word.

Our recovery perspective is one of practicality. We desire to keep things simple, not debating on doctrines but simply introducing freedom through spiritual principles that carry power and promise.

Some of our residents may not come from a drug and alcohol background or understand recovery principles. Therefore our focus on recovery is not exclusive to drugs and alcohol and we believe that the whole world is in a state of recovery, separated from God, and spiritually bankrupt to some degree.

The house's first priority is to offer an atmosphere conducive to personal recovery and spiritual growth, and we will do all that is necessary to protect the sanctity of the home and the safety of the other residents. We understand the seriousness of the sinful nature of a man and are interested in making the man "whole" not just bringing temporal relief to the pain of his circumstances or environment.

We are a family of spiritual brothers, with purpose in mind: to overcome, succeed, and prosper through the Word of God and the fullness of His spiritual principles.

Ultimately, we will measure our success by the spiritual development and transformation of the resident. INTEGRITY HOUSE is a mission first and foremost and not a business. In our house - deliverance, healing, restoration and reconciliation with God is our first priority, and all other concerns will be secondary.

We will use sound judgment in our relationships with our residents, and will make decisions based on biblical principles. We will stand patiently and steadfastly with integrity and compassion concerning all conflicts.

It is our desire that everyone in our home treats their fellow brothers with love and respect, always keeping an open-mind and remaining teachable. Just like the rooms of recovery we have no interest in controversies, arguments or any belief, philosophy, or discipline that would divert us from our primary purpose - to help the sick and suffering.

Integrity House believes in the 12 step process and recognizes the rooms of recovery as a powerful fellowship and proven lifestyle that has helped millions recover and grow spiritually. We believe that the program lifestyle can complement and improve the recovery of the resident, and is viewed as an asset, not a liability.

Lastly, the goal of our home is not to simply keep our residents clean and sober, but to empower them in every area of their lives. We believe that sobriety is a good start, yet we are called to prosper, succeed, and overcome in every area of life. We love you & thank you for the opportunity to serve you.
